"I noticed within the first few weeks that my hands and feet felt warmer and my legs didn't feel as heavy by the end of the day. I feel like things are just.. flowing better. It's hard to explain but my body feels more alive. Love that it's all natural - nothing I can't pronounce."

What's Really Happening Inside Your Arteries After 40

Processed foods, chronic stress, and a sedentary lifestyle can all affect how well your cardiovascular system functions over time. Supporting your heart and circulation proactively is one of the most important things you can do after 40.

Most people aren't getting enough of the compounds clinically proven to fight this — like aged garlic extract — from diet alone. That gap shows up as high blood pressure, poor circulation, and a heart working twice as hard just to keep up.

Cold hands and feet. Low energy. Heaviness in your legs. These are signs your body could use more support for healthy circulation and cardiovascular function.

Aged Garlic Extract and CoQ10 Ubiquinol are two of the most clinically studied compounds for supporting cardiovascular wellness. Together, they support healthy blood pressure, healthy arterial flexibility, and cellular energy production.*

From healthy circulation to sustained energy, here's what makes Resilia® different.

The Ancient Herb Backed By Thousands Of Years Of Use

Garlic has been used to protect the heart for over 5,000 years. Now we know exactly why — and modern clinical trials have confirmed what ancient healers already knew.

This isn't folklore. The combination of Aged Garlic Extract and CoQ10 Ubiquinol have each been studied in double-blind, placebo-controlled clinical research for their role in supporting healthy cardiovascular function.*

Its active compound, S-allylcysteine (SAC), is clinically studied to:

- Supports healthy blood pressure*
- Supports healthy arterial flexibility*
- Supports cellular energy production when combined with CoQ10 Ubiquinol*

With Resilia Aged Garlic + CoQ10, you're getting the most clinically validated form of this ancient compound — standardized, dosed, and proven to work.

Real Feedback from Resilia Customers

In a recent customer survey, users reported:

58%

Of users reported feeling more cardiovascular support within the first 30 days*

67%

Of users reported more energy, less fatigue, and better stamina during daily activities*

74%

Of users said they felt steadier and more energized after one month*

81%

Of users reported feeling stronger, sharper, and more energized after consistent daily use*

Two Ingredients. Daily Cardiovascular Support.*

Unlike supplements with long ingredient lists, Resilia Aged Garlic + CoQ10 is built around two clinically studied actives — each chosen for a specific role in supporting cardiovascular and circulatory wellness.

Here's what makes Resilia Aged Garlic + CoQ10 so effective in every serving:

Key Compounds:

- S-Allylcysteine (SAC) — the primary active in Aged Garlic Extract, studied for its role in supporting healthy circulation and antioxidant activity*
- CoQ10 Ubiquinol — the body-ready form of CoQ10 that supports cellular energy production and cardiovascular wellness*

Natural Benefits:

- Supports healthy circulation and normal blood flow*
- Promotes cardiovascular wellness year-round*
- Supports cellular energy and reduced fatigue*
- Encourages antioxidant activity and oxidative balance*

With Resilia Aged Garlic + CoQ10, you're giving your body targeted, plant-powered support from one of the world's most studied herbal traditions — formulated for the way modern adults actually live.
